CATHOLIC CHURCH

Palm Sunday

Reflection

Palm Sunday raises at least two important spiritual questions for Christians: What does it mean to be like Jesus? And what does it mean to take up our crosses, just like He did? First, you don't need to go looking for your cross. Life gives them to you. Whether it's an illness or a tough family relationship or trouble in school or problems on the job. The real cross is the one that you don't want. Because it's hardly a cross if you want it. Just like it was for Jesus. Second, we are asked by Jesus to accept our crosses.

Now, what does that mean? Well, first it means accepting that suffering is a reality in your life, and being honest about it. Perhaps more importantly, it means not passing along the bitterness that you feel. That doesn't mean that when you're with friends or family members or counselors, you can't talk about it or complain about it or even cry about it. That's both healthy and natural.

But it does mean that if you're angry about your boss or about school or about your family, you don't pass along that anger or bitterness or meanness to others. Your cross is your cross. It shouldn't become someone else's. - Father James Martin, SJ

PASTOR'S PARAGRAPH

My Dear Friends,

Our first Holy Week in the new church. Yes, I'm nervous – we have never done the ceremonies here before. And they are the most complicated of the entire liturgical year. This weekend, on Palm Sunday, it is appropriate that we gather on the piazza outside and then process into church with our Palms. On the piazza we hear a reading from the Gospel and bless the palms.

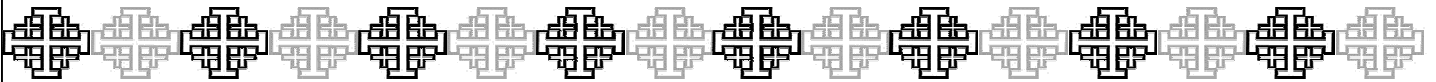

On Holy Thursday at 7 pm we will celebrate the Eucharist, with the washing of feet, as Jesus did for the Apostles at the Last Supper. As of mid-week, I am still in need of 5 more volunteer Apostles. At the end of Mass we carry the Blessed Sacrament to the Chapel in procession. Deacon Joe will have Stations of the Cross at noon on Good Friday. The Good Friday service is at 3 pm. We hear the Passion, have veneration of the Cross, and then receive Communion from the hosts consecrated the day before.

Holy Saturday begins near 8 pm with the Blessing of the fire in the piazza, followed by the procession with the Easter candle into the darkened church. There are readings from the Bible and the reception into the church of the RCIA folks either by Baptism or Confirmation. Our Holy Saturday service usually lasts a little over 1.5 hours.

Easter Sunday is our regular Sunday schedule. There will be no daily Mass Monday or Tuesday April 2 and 3. The entire StMM campus will be closed.

There will be Confessions at 10:30 on Saturday March 24. No Confessions on Holy Saturday or on April 7. There will be Confessions on April 14.

Father Donald Staib
