

A NOTE FROM DEACON RICK

Once upon a time the Council of Camels were meeting to decide what to do with Wednesday. They were concerned that the day separating the beginning of the week and the end of the week was not fully appreciated.

Joe, the head of the council, came up with an idea. "Why not call it "hump day?" he suggested. The others agreed that this was a great idea. So, from then on, Wednesday became known as hump day. The day after which the week gets easier. Our burdens are lifted, our moods improve and we can coast into the ever-cherished weekend.

This Sunday my brothers and sisters we celebrate another hump day. It's called Gaudete Sunday and it's marked by the rose colored candle and vestments. Gaudete Sunday means that we are entering the second half of the Advent season. It's a brief respite from our penitence and a time to be joyful.

The rose color reminds us that when true repentance occurs, joyful obedience is the result. It represents lightness of heart and an unbreakable spirit even in the darkness.

This joy is something to be treasured and held close to our hearts. Because unlike happiness, joy comes from inside ourselves. Happiness, on the other hand is external. It may be caused by luck, good fortune, or other worldly pleasures. For example, we can feel happy when we receive a gift or an award.

If one of us were to win $50,000 in the lottery, we'd be very happy. But if we were to start up a business and work hard to earn the $50,000, we would experience joy.

Though the financial benefit is the same, the means make the final emotion different. In the end, it's the road we travel that determines whether our lives are happy or joyful.

We'll always appreciate winning a hard-fought battle more than something that comes too easily.

When we seek joy this way, we become connected to the ultimate joy. The joy that's represented by the rose-colored candle we light on Sunday.

It's Holy joy. The joy that can only come from God. Knowing that Jesus is coming to make his dwelling among us. And lead us by example.

But in the ANTICIPATION of His coming, we can also experience this Holy Joy. Just recall Christmas as a child when looking forward to opening the gifts was almost as good as sitting with our gifts already unwrapped.

The Joy that fills our hearts as we light this third Advent candle is in the deepest part of our soul. Since Holy joy is a fruit of the Holy Spirit, it's infused with comfort and wrapped in peace. It's an attitude of the heart and spirit that is sustained by our longing to get closer to our Lord.

In this longing lies hope and promise—a light at the tip of that candle- that makes all our heartaches bearable. We ache for something better because we believe it's possible.

In the midst of all the purple, the rose candle brings hope and a promise that the waiting is nearing an end. We are over the hump and God's promise is about to be fulfilled. And, in that lies unconditional Joy!

Deacon Rick

Ministry, Group, and Event Highlights

Parish Facility Manager

StMM is seeking a Parish Facility Manager to help keep our campus safe, welcoming, and running smoothly. This full-time role will oversee daily building operations, maintenance, repairs, and support for parish events. We're looking for someone who is organized, reliable, and comfortable managing both hands-on tasks and working with staff, volunteers, and contractors.

If you or someone you know has experience in facilities or maintenance and would enjoy serving our parish community in this important role, we invite you to learn more and apply through the Diocese of Raleigh employment page HERE.

Christmas Poinsettias

Donations to the Floral Ministry are being accepted now through Dec. 15 to help decorate the church with poinsettias for Christmas. You may make your online donation HERE.

If you wish to honor a loved one with your donation, please write their name in the optional memo section with 'In Memory Of' or 'In Honor Of.' Their name will be displayed on the narthex TVs at Christmastime.

Angel Tree's Toy Drive & Charitable Collections

This year, the Angel Tree ministry will accept donations for the Holly Springs Food Cupboard, Women That Care, Western Wake Crisis Ministry, Catholic Parish Outreach, and Gabriel Project. Donations will be accepted through December 13-14.

Thank you for your support and generosity!
